

The Ninth Annual

HIPPOCRATES POETRY & MEDICINE SYMPOSIUM

Thursday, May 10th, 2018

Poetry off the Shelf: Mark Doty & Rafael Campo

The Poetry Foundation
61 West Superior Street
Chicago, IL 60654

Friday, May 11th, 2018

Poetry & Medicine Symposium

Robert H. Lurie Medical Research Building - Baldwin Auditorium
303 East Superior Street
Chicago, IL 60611

7:45 - 8:30am: Breakfast

8:30 - 9:30am: SESSION 1: Witnessing Illness

Lois Leveen, PhD

Metastatic Metaphors: Poetry, Cancer Imagery, and the Imagined Self

Sheri Reda

The Poet as Witness: Poetry as Mythic Construction

Wendy French, MA

Writing the Memoir for Cancer Patients or Writing to Know Oneself Better

9:30 - 10:00am: Break (with posters)

10:00 - 11:00am: SESSION 2: Physiological and Poetic Rhythms

Gary Glazner, BA

The Use of Poetry to Engage Echoic Memory with People Living with Alzheimer's Disease and Related Dementia

Catherine Belling, PhD

Murmur, Beat, Silence: Toward a Cardiography of Poems

Eric Elshtain, BFA, MFA, PhD

The Physiology of Poetry

11:00 – 11:45am: Rafael Campo and Mark Doty Keynote Conversation

11:45 – 12:45pm: LUNCH (with posters)

12:45 – 1:45pm: SESSION 3: Witnessing Differences

Bassam F. Sidiki, MA

Agha Shahid Ali and the Poetics of Bio-political Witnessing

Michelle N. Huang, PhD

Disarticulation and Disability in Bhanu Kapil's "Humanimal"

Emily Chester, PhD

Phenomenological Poetry: Navigating the Frontier of Performance, Lived Experience and Therapy in Jess Thom's Production of Beckett's "Not I"

1:45 – 3:00pm: SESSION 4: Lyric Disruptions

Rachel Jamison Webster, MFA

Poetic Meaning at the Edges of Medicine

Susan J. Sample, PhD, MFA

The Personal Lyric and Medical Students: How Writing Poetry Disrupts the Hidden Curriculum

Joy Jacobson, MFA

"Lyric Time" in Nursing Education

4:00PM

Hippocrates Prize Presentations and Reading

The Poetry Foundation
61 West Superior Street
Chicago, IL 60654

SUPPLEMENTAL EVENT - Additional fee required

6:00 – 7:30PM

"Art, Poetry, and Medicine" seminar led by Joel Katz, MD

Museum of Contemporary Art
220 East Chicago Avenue
Chicago, IL 60611